

I understand the importance of localism, but I draw great strength from listening to the national Broadcast of K-Love. I have found that the current local radio stations do not play the music that I am looking for, they have more talk shows, which are interesting, but not why I am listening. If K-Love were to be taken off the radio or displaced by a LPFM I would be lacking in the music I enjoy. They offer local postings of upcoming events and local concerts of interest. The fact that they are heard around the country is exciting and allows them to bring short encouraging news stories from many different locations which helps unify our national concern and interest in different cities and states. I believe the service of K-Love is in the public interest because it offers a family safe alternative to typical radio programming. For example, many local stations play music that although it may be devoid of foul language includes dirty innuendos and often times between the negative news, DJs that will talk about anything, and songs with questionable intentions I will not let my young daughter listen to the radio. Only with the alternative K-Love provides can I safely listen to music of my choice with a guarantee that the words and innuendos coming over the air waves will be safe for my whole family.

Thank you for considering the continuation of great broadcasts such as K-Love.
